About Me

I am a multi-camera studio and outside broadcast presentation director, specialising in sport but with broad experience in other genres. I have a proven track record creating and launching new programmes, as well as innovating on established shows. I am flexible, creative and confident, and comfortable working with both high-profile and inexperienced talent.

As an ex-engineer and ex-vision mixer I am technically astute, and at ease with innovative production workflows and systems. I have experience in modern remote multi-camera production, taken to the extreme during the Covid lockdown, as well as more traditional gallery, OB and studio operations.
